What Is PCN?

PCN is a health plan offered by the Utah Department of Health. It covers the services administered by a primary care provider.

What does PCN cover?

- Visits to a primary care provider
- Four prescriptions per month
- Dental exams, cleanings, fillings, routine x-rays, tooth extractions
- Immunizations
- Routine lab services and x-rays
- Limited coverage of emergency room visits
- Emergency medical transportation
- Birth control

What is not covered?

- Hospital stays, MRIs, CT scans, etc.
- Visits to a specialist, such as an orthopedist, cardiologist, ear, nose and throat doctor, etc.

For some services not covered by PCN, a PCN Specialty Care Coordinator may be able to help you find a provider who charges a minimum co-pay.

Why is enrollment sometimes open to "parents only"?

Because of some federal funding restrictions for PCN, enrollment is sometimes limited just to parents. To qualify as a parent, you must have a child under age 19 living at home with you.
